

UNCLE SAM'S MONEY.

Heavy Falling Off in The Customs Duties.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—[Special]—The United States Treasurer's statement issued to-day showing the operations to the close of business June 20th, gives the following figures:

Cash balance, $43,997,810; deducting $31,666,746 on deposit in national banks and $20,173,625 fractional silver, or a total of $51,840,371, leaving a net balance or surplus of $1,257,439. The statement prepared in the secretary's office giving operations to date shows a net balance in the treasury of $4,765,000.

Referring to the statement that the cash in the Treasury to-day is $97,000,000 less than it was July 1, 1930, including amounts held for redemption of national bank notes, a Treasury official said this afternoon that the books of the Treasury Department show that the amount paid out in purchase of the bonded indebtedness of the United States since that date has been $113,810,543, or 26,810,843 more than the reduction in cash referred to.

The statement prepared at the Treasury Department shows that the net gold in the Treasury, coin and bullion, on the 20th instant, was $121,333,339, or $11,873,834 less than was held on the 1st instant, and $68,889,065 less than in the treasury June 1, 1930. The statement only goes back to January, 1930, at which time the net gold in the Treasury amounted to $202,955,184, or $81,621,845 more than at present. Gold holdings were greatest in March, 1930, when they were $218,818,253.

Receipts from customs at the port of New York during the first twenty days of June were $5,491,139. Receipts during the corresponding period of last year were $9,348,074. It is estimated that two-thirds of the customs revenues are collected at New York, and that the total receipts from customs for the present fiscal year ending June 30 next will be about $5,000,000 less than the previous fiscal year.

CIGARETTE MACHINE SUIT SETTLED.

The Bonsack and Allen & Ginter Companies Compromise.

RICHMOND, June 23.—[Special]—The celebrated case of the Bonsacks Cigarette Machine Company, of Lynchburg, against the Allen & Ginter Company, of this city, involving not only a large sum of money, but some nice questions of law, was set in the city circuit court for trial to-day. The suit is for royalties claimed by the Bonsack's company against the other concern amounting to $35,000, whereas the Allen & Ginter Company brought offsets against the claim amounting to about $8,000.

Able counsel had assembled here on both sides and there were a number of gentlemen from Lynchburg present, who are either interested as stockholders in the Bonsack cigarette machine or came as witnesses. The case was called in the circuit court yesterday and a special jury was asked for, but before the order for the jury was carried out, B. B. Munford, counsel for defendants, quietly announced that the matter had been already compromised without consulting the counsel, under a pledge that the amount agreed upon should not be made known.

The counsel in the case were both surprised and a little disappointed, or, as one of them expressed it, he was inclined to be mad. The case will doubtless be taken from the docket to-day. In this suit the Allen & Ginter Company claimed that for five years they had paid a royalty of 20 cents per 1,000 cigarettes when the charge should only have been 20 cents per 1,000, and that this last amount was all that was paid by all other manufacturers. This was denied by the Bonsack company.

The Funds for The Irish.

NEW YORK, June 23.—[Special]—Justice Bartlett, in the supreme court in Brooklyn, has denied the application of Richard O'Neil for a reopening of his suit for an injunction, restraining Broker Eugene Kelly from transmitting any more of the funds raised for the Irish evicted tenants to Justin McCarthy. In deciding the first application for an injunction Justice Bartlett held that it made no difference whether the money was forwarded to the McCarthyites or the Parnellites, so long as it was devoted to the relief of the evicted tenants.

A New Trial for The Jury Bribers.

NEW ORLEANS, June 23.—[Special]—Judge Marr to-day decided to grant a new trial to McCrystal and Cooney, the jury bribers, on the ground that the evidence did not warrant the verdict.

It Advertises the Entire Southwest.

From the Cape Charles Pioneer.

The Monday hotel edition of THE ROANOKE TIMES is one of the finest evidences of enterprise that has been exhibited in Virginia within our knowledge. We are not surprised to learn that it is largely the work of James A. Fugh, the worthy president of the Virginia Press Association and associate editor of THE TIMES. The beauty of Mr. Fugh's effort is that it not only advertises the city of Roanoke, but the entire section of Southwest Virginia.

A Progressive Paper.

From the Bristol News.

THE ROANOKE TIMES is a progressive paper. It has arranged to have a special telegraph wire placed in its editorial rooms from Roanoke to Washington, and will from to-day receive a telegraphic service equal to any paper in the South. We are sure that the citizens of that enterprising city will sustain it in this progressive, forward movement. It is among one of our best and most valued exchanges.

Enterprising Work.

From the Pulaski News.

THE ROANOKE TIMES did an enterprising piece of newspaper work in bringing out on Monday a special hotel edition, freely illustrated. The issue was gotten up by Jas. A. Fugh, president of the Virginia Press Association, who is now right bower on THE TIMES.

The Times Leads.

From the Petersburg Virginian.

We received the Hotel Edition of THE ROANOKE TIMES this week. It is beautifully illustrated with cuts of the most prominent hotels in the State, and especially on the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad. THE TIMES is the leading paper of Roanoke.

FOR A NEW MILITARY COMPANY.

The Permanent Organization Postponed for a Larger Meeting.

In consequence of the ball on the previous night, only a limited number of persons assembled at St. Andrew's Hall last night for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps toward organizing a military company. But those who were present were full of zeal, and firmly bent on organizing a military company at once.

D. D. Canaday, the temporary chairman, called the meeting to order. Several matters of interest were talked over, and it was decided not to form a permanent organization until a larger attendance could be secured.

It was decided to meet next Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, at which time all who wish to become members are expected to be present.

It was not decided whether the membership should be confined to the members of the St. Andrew's Literary and Benevolent Society or not. The meeting next Friday night will be open to all who wish to join.

COME SOUTH, YOUNG MAN?

President Harrison, on his tour through the South, after having seen the wonderfu growth of Lynchburg, Bedford City, Roanoke, Salem, Radford, Pulaski, Wytheville and Abingdon and the industrial development in progress along the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad, and viewed the country of south-west Virginia, said in his speech to the people at Bristol, Va.

"My Fellow Citizens: I have found not only pleasure, but instruction in riding to-day through the portion of the State of Virginia that is feeling in a very striking way the impulse of new development. It is extremely gratifying to notice that those hidden sources of wealth which were so long unobserved and so long unused are now being found, and that these regions, once so retired, occupied by pastoral people, having difficult access to the center of population, are now being rapidly transformed into busy manufacturing and commercial centers. In the early settlement of this country emigrants poured over the Alleghenies and Blue Ridge like waters over an obstructing ledge, seeking the fertile and attractive farm regions of the great West. They passed unobserved these marvelous hidden stores of wealth which are now being brought into use. "Having filled those great basins of the West, they are now turning back to Virginia and West Virginia and Tennessee to bring about the full development and production for which time is ripe and which will surprise the world. It has not been long since every implement of iron, domestic, agricultural and mechanical, was made for you in other States. The iron point of the wooden mold board plow, with which the early farmers here turned the soil, came from distant States. But now Virginia and Tennessee are stirring their energies to participate in a large degree in mechanical productions and in the great awakening of American commerce and American influence which will lift the nation to a place among the nations of the world never before attained. "What is to hinder us when we have secured the markets of our own states that we will reach out and enter into successful competition in the markets of other parts of the world? I say what is to hinder this people, possessing by the providence of God, all the elements of material wealth; endowed with a genius and energy unsurpassed among the nations of the earth, shall again have on the great sea a merchant marine flying the flag of the common country and carrying its commerce into every sea and upholding its honor in every port? "I am glad to-day to stand for this moment among you and to express my sympathy with any and every interest that tends to develop you as a people. I am glad to stand with you on one common platform of respect for the constitution; differing as some of us may do in our opinions as to what the law should be and how it should be applied; having in view one common devotion of obedience to the law as the majority of our people, by their own representatives, make it. "I shall carry away from here a renewed impulse to public duty; a new inspiration as a citizen, and that, too, of a country whose greatness is only dawning. "And now let me express to you the pleasure I shall have in every good that can come to you as a community, and to each of you as individuals. May peace, prosperity and social order dwell in all your families, and the fear and love of God in every home."
